PROSPECTS FOR GAS

Outlook Good for a Supply of This Necessary Commodity for Glendale, Tropico and Vicinity

Mr. D. Griswold, who with Messrs. Campbell, McIntyre and others interested in Glendale and Tropico, has been trying for some time past to get a gas plant established in this vicinity, informs us that parties have become interested in the project and after looking over the field carefully have decided to go into it. They represent a large amount of capital, sufficient to make them independent of the gas trust, and will ask no aid of local people except in moral support and in the use of the gas, at reasonable rates, after it is ready for delivery. Papers are now being prepared for the formation of the company, and other details will soon be published. Mr. Gordon, who has been canvassing the field for some weeks in the interest of the gentlemen first named, has secured, we understand, over seven hundred conditional contracts from prospective consumers of gas in this vicinity.

It is the intention of the promoters of the new enterprise to purchase gas of a Los Angeles company if possible in order that delivery may be accomplished at the earliest possible date, but if they do not succeed in this the works will be established in this vicinity with as little delay as possible.

Later—We are informed just before going to press that the paeprs have been signed by which is formed for the purpose of supplying Glendale and Tropico with gas, a financial combination of such strength as to assure the prompt completion of any enterprise in which they may engage.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

The musical extravaganza in Filger's hall, Tuesday night, by the pupils of the Glendale Union High School was a brilliant success and the young people can be justly proud of the laurels they won that evening. The music was exceptionally good in the double octet, showing talent and faithful work, and the Fan Drill and the Butterfly Drill were enthusiastically received.

With so many Japanese lanterns and cherry blossoms and beautiful costumes of the Orient one would need a prosaic mind not to believe themselves bowing before the mikado, unless, perhaps, they met the little goddess of liberty on the way, one would surely believe Mt. Olympus a goodly place.

It has been said Dana Burket and Saul Rehart should have honorable mention—and well they played the part—the little Chinamen.

The Folk Dances were a feature of the evening and most artistically presented.

Much credit and praise is showered on the teachers who guided the affair to its success.

The music was under the direction of Miss Andersen and the artistic posing and costuming under the watchful eye of Miss Hall, while Miss McLean arranged pictures and staging.

Parishioners are reminded of the special obligation and privilege of devoutly keeping the great feast of Pentecost, or as it is commonly called, "Whitsunday." The subject of the sermon in the morning will be "The Church's Challenge to the World—Look on Us."

REPORT OF TROPICO DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

To all outward appearances the Tropico District Sunday School convention, held in the First Baptist church of this place, on Saturday, May 22, was a success.

All three sessions were well attended; the attendance and interest increasing with each session. The house was filled at the evening session even to the platform where a choir of perhaps fifty singers was seated to assist Prof. Stout with the music.

It is needless to say that the music was fine.

The church had been tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting.

The out-of-town speakers were: Mr. Hugh C. Gibson, general secretary of Southern California; Miss Meme Brockway, superintendent elementary department of Southern California, and Mrs. Grace H. Miller, superintendent Los Angeles county home department.

The morning session was called to order by Mr. Thomas Watson, district president. Prof. Stout then led a praise and devotional service.

The roll call of Sunday Schools of the district followed the praise service. A silk flag was to be given the school having present at this session the highest per cent of its teachers and officers. The Tropico Presbyterian school won this flag.

The schools represented at this session were as follows:

Tropico—Presbyterian, Methodist-Episcopal.

Glendale—Baptist, Methodist-Episcopal, Presbyterian, Central Christian.

West Glendale—Methodist-Episcopal.

Eagle Rock—Congregational.

Other schools of the district were represented at the evening session.

The home department was the chief topic for discussion at the morning session, both Mr. Gibson and Mrs. Miller speaking on this subject. Much was made of this department as a means of winning the homes.

At the noon hour a basket luncheon was partaken of. At 1:30 p. m. Prof. Stout led in a service of song.

The afternoon session was given largely to the discussion of problems relative to the elementary grades of the Sunday School. Miss Brockway had charge of this work and proved herself a skillful leader. A union of the elementary teachers of Glendale and Tropico Sunday Schools was organized at this session. Mrs. A. R. Taylor was chosen president of the union.

Mr. O. A. Lane spoke on the subject, "Attendance, Offerings, How to Increase." He said he had no new methods to offer. There is nothing better than common sense business methods. Mr. Lane speaks from a working knowledge of the subject.

The evening session convened at 7:30. Prof. Stout leading in a song and praise service, assisted by a large choir.

At this session a silk flag was to be presented to the adult Bible class having present the largest per cent of its enrollment. Two classes, one from the Tropico Presbyterian and one from the Central Christian, had a 100 per cent attendance, and each received a flag.

Mr. Gibson gave a fine address on the subject, "Winning Men and Women to Christ."

The officers chosen for the following year are president, Thomas Watson; vice president, A. J. Gibson; secretary treasurer, Arthur V. Frazee; home department superintendent, Mrs. J. C. Lennox; superintendent teachers training and adult Bible class, E. H. Learned; superintendent elementary department, Mrs. A. R. Taylor.

CITY TRUSTEES

Pacific Electric Road will Not Lower Tracks—Special Election Ordinance for Bond Issue Passes Third Reading, June 22 is the Date Set

All members present. Demands as follows were referred to the finance committee:

J. M. Sprinkle, labor St. dept.....$18.00
Fred Evans, labor St. dept..... 6.00

Demands previously referred were reported back approved.

The city engineer reported that the Pacific Electric railway would not agree to lower their tracks on Brand boulevard and presented the correspondence in regard to the matter. Report received and filed.

The city attorney was instructed to ascertain cost of report on title to right of way of Pacific Electric railway on Brand boulevard in Glendale and if cost does not exceed twenty-five dollars to order same.

Report of city marshal on work done from April 21 to May 25 was received and reported to police and sanitary committee.

A protest against proposed extension of Orange street signed by Hugh Blue and others, was received and filed. A deed from W. A. Gibson and Claire R. Gibson to the City of Glendale conveying certain land in lot 31 of Watts subdivision, was accepted. The city engineer was instructed to draft resolution naming that certain street of which the land conveyed by above mentioned deed is a part, Mariposa street.

The ordinance calling a special election for a bond issue for a municipal lighting plant, came up for third and final reading. On motion of Trustee Blackburn the following amendments were adopted: changing date of election to June 22d, and making the proposed rate of interest five instead of six per cent. The ordinance as amended then passed. The city marshal was requested to ascertain what trees for street planting are desired by property owners between Glendale avenu and Central avenue.

"THE VILLAGE POSTOFFICE" AT FILGER'S HALL.

This grand aggregation of local talent played to a well-filled house at Filger's new opera house, last Saturday evening. The affair was under the auspices of the ladies of St. Mark's Church and they deserve great credit for carrying it through so successfully. Considering the fact that there are about thirty characters represented in the play, quite a number of whom had never appeared before on any stage, the performance was remarkably good and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The costumes and make-ups were generally appropriate and the play proceeded without any noticeable hitches or a failure on the part of any one connected with the representation. We should like to especially commend the acting of several members of the company, but in looking over the long cast of characters, find discrimination difficult, as all did so well. Miss Edith Boothe, who came from Los Angeles to assist in the presentation of the play, filled the two roles of Jerushy Jones and the Chinaman in the same delightfully snappy style that characterized her previous performances before Glendale audiences. The success of the play was quite largely due to the coaching of Mrs. Harry Stockbridge of Lomita Park. The play is certainly not high dramatic art, but it affords good opportunities for amusing situations and when presented as well as it was last Saturday evening is a laugh compeller.

P. E. O. LUNCHEON.

At noon, Monday, Chapter L. P. E. O. had a luncheon at the home of their president, Miss Ruth Byram, to celebrate the last meeting of the year. Although the plan to serve the lunch under large trees had to be changed because of the weather, sunshine and flowers ran riot in the dining room and made the elaborate menu "a feast indeed." After the social hour the business for the year was concluded.

The chapter had as guests Miss Bessie Brainard of Idaho and Mrs. Byram and their Los Angeles sister, Mrs. Edna McGee.

NEW BUSINESS FIRM.

The grocery stock of the store recently carried on by Messrs. Brewster and Haviland on Brand boulevard has been bought by Messrs. Price Bros. and Co., who will conduct it on a cash basis. The stock has been moved into the storeroom in the Newmark building, 304 Brand boulevard. Mr. Ed Price has been a resident of Glendale for the past year or more, he and his brother are experienced in the grocery business and have also associated with them Mr. Fleming, who has been several years engaged in that line.

ANNUAL REPORT OF FORESTRY AND PARKS COMMITTEE, TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Early in the club year City Forester Harper of Los Angeles was secured by the forestry and parks committee to speak before the club to a good representation of the members and citizens and during the year the committee has kept the subjects enthusiastically advocated by him before the public, in over six columns of original newspaper articles upon parks, boulevards and trees, in the GLENDALE NEWS, besides which over three columns along the same lines have also appeared in this publication for which the committee wishes to express thanks.

The committee was invited by the city council to meet jointly with that body to consider questions relating to shade tree planting, an ordinance pertaining to which was in process of preparation. The committee has presented formulated suggestions and petitions, approved by the club to the council, pertaining to kind of trees and plants for parkways and proper conditions relative to same, and deploring the uprooting of trees and also asking the council to take steps towards securing a park or parks for Glendale, from all of which seed-sowing the committee hopes something good may come in the way of parks and beautiful streets for our city, even though a considerable outlay of money may be necessary.

A number of citizens in different parts of Glendale have been sufficiently interested in the question of broad boulevards to offer property for this purpose, but there not having been a sufficient number of generous citizens on any street, nothing has been accomplished.

This committee has had much opposition to contend with as people have received the impression that the forestry and parks committee has in some way been given jurisdiction over the public and intended to order every tree in Glendale dug up and others planted, while in reality the committee has been instrumental in saving some trees and deplores the fact that any have been destroyed.

The United States government has given the subject of parks and forestry serious attention and financial backing and both the aesthetic and economic value of trees is being more generally appreciated and your committee believes that the attention of our locality has been somewhat arrested along these lines and that gratifying results may naturally follow.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

We reported a large sale of realty last week when we mentioned the sale of the Lee property on Adams street, but this week a much larger one is reported from North Glendale. The McCann place, on Kenneth Road, formerly belonging to Mr. Sanders who sold it some three years ago for about $20,000, consisting of 22 acres, was sold during the week to Mr. John Brockman, a mining man living in Los Angeles, who has mining interests in Arizona. The price paid is said to have been $31,000. In addition to this purchase Mr. Brockman also bought the Kennedy property, consisting of about 75 acres of land adjoining, most of which is mountainous but which is said to have possibilities in the way of water development. The price paid for the last named piece was $11,000. Nothing is known of Mr. Brockman's plans, but as he seems to be possessed of ample means it is probable that extensive improvements will be made on the property, which has natural advantages that suggest magnificent possibilities.

Overton Realty Co. report the sale of the old Home Telephone office and lot upon which it stands, corner Fourth and Central, to Mrs. Beers.

Through the agency of Mr. J. A. Eppinger, Mr. Krukow has bought two lots on Glendale avenue about midway between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Mr. J. A. Logan has gone to Lakeside to close up a deal of forty-seven acres of land near that place.

Shook Brothers are starting another house in the Vineyard tract for Mr. Stone. They have also begun the construction of Mr. Monroe's new residence which will cost about $1800. They have under way at San Fernando the one-story brick business block for Cole & Dick.

We were in error last week in stating that Architect Lamberth prepared the plans for Mr. Caruthers' residence on Louise street. The plans are furnished by Mr. E. V. Tuttle and the work is being done by Shook Brothers.

ANNOUNCEMENT FROM GLENDALE LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY.

To the Citizens of Glendale:

A rumor is being circulated that this company is refusing to furnish light for illuminating the city streets. We beg to state that we have heretofore proposed to the city trustees, and have always been willing to furnish ten arc lights for one hundred dollars per month, and employ a night man to look after them and keep them in good order. This would light the entire central portion of the city. This proposition has never been accepted by the trustees who claim that the city cannot afford to pay one hundred dollars per month for street lighting.

This company has also agreed to furnish incandescent lights at the rate of seven cents per K.W. hour, being the same rate the power companies are charging other cities of similar size and population.

GLENDALE, CAL., MAY 29, 1909

The Booster Brigade of Redondo, carried in two special cars over the Santa Fe road, visited the towns along the kite shaped track last week. They distribute advertising matter, talk about Redondo and other things and eat and drink of everything set before them. The Brigade is sent out by the Chamber of Commerce.

The people of the Cahuenga school district (Hollywood) voted last Saturday on the issuance of $25,000 to buy school lots and erect buildings.

On June 7th, Monrovia will vote on a bond issue of $100,000 for a sewerage system.

The American Sugar Refinery Company in New York, thanks to a Rooseveltian investigation, has been detected in a remarkable scheme for the perpetration of fraud upon the government in the weighing of imported sugar. As a result, several weighers are under indictment and the company has paid over to the government about two million dollars of back dues and fines.

While the indicted individuals were merely employes of the company, it is quite possible that some of the "higher ups" who were cognizant of the fraud, will be brought to trial.

Notwithstanding Democratic platforms making appeals for a "tariff for revenue only" and vociferous denunciations of the "protected interests," etc., on the part of party orators, it is a curious fact that in the present contest over the tariff in the senate, the New York World asserts that: "In both houses of congress Democrats cynically repudiate their party obligations in order to get a full measure of Aldrich protection for their constituents." We are reminded in this connection that the late Senator Stephen M. White of Los Angeles, was a dyed-in-the-wool Free Trader, during political campaigns, but when he reached Washington he exerted himself to get a protective tariff on California citrus fruits.

THE BOND PROPOSITION.

The city trustees passed on Wednesday night last, the amended ordinance calling for a bond election to be held on June 22d next, for the purpose of deciding whether Glendale shall construct an electric lighting system. We publish considerable in regard to the matter in another part of the paper and next week shall give facts concerning municipal lighting plants elsewhere, also giving further details of the plan as outlined by Mr. Lynch in the statement which he has furnished the trustees and which is open for inspection at the city hall, a synopsis of which is published in this issue. The matter is now before the voters for consideration. It is one in regard to which there can easily be different opinions entertained, and about which no one can afford to be too dogmatic. Out of the discussion of the matter, whatever may be the decision at the polls, good will come, if our people refrain from getting excited over the subject and discuss and consider it with cool judgment.

THAT PUBLIC PARK.

The communication in another column from Mr. R. Gilhousen in regard to a public park, is expressed in most commendable spirit, and the suggestion that he makes should bear fruit. This paper is quite willing to act for the community in gathering together such contributions, or promises of contributions, as our people may desire, under certain conditions. We do not care to undertake the holding of any funds, but should be very glad for others to follow Mr. Gilhousen's example and write to us saying what they will do. Some have money, others land and others yet can promise labor. If a general interest can be aroused in the subject it is quite possible to accomplish much. Questions of detail, including location, can be settled later when a sufficient amount is in sight to warrant action. Among contributions may possibly be one or more sites. All promises can be made conditionally, but this matter should be treated in a spirit as liberal as that which prompts the giving and not have too many "strings" attached thereto.

MEMORIAL DAY.

It is well that one brief day in the year, at least, should be dedicated to the memory of that rapidly increasing tenantry of the numberless last resting places of the heroic hosts who almost half a century ago went forth to battle for the country that they loved. As a result of their devotion and that of their fellows who lived to return to the homes that they had left when called out by the rude alarm of war, the United States has enjoyed a half century of peace and unexampled prosperity. Every promise made for the government which the fathers of the Republic founded, by the most hopeful among them, has developed into glorious reality, and to the men who living and dead made this fruition possible, those of us who "tread the primrose paths of peace" cannot pay too much honor. We too readily forget in our daily enjoyment of the fruits of peace, the price that was paid for our heritage; and we should be glad to turn aside and rest awhile from the strenuous pursuits of life, to pay the tribute of a thought, at least, to the soldiers of the union for whom the last drum beat has sounded. The day should not be desecrated by a noisy devotion to pleasure, but rather observed as a sacred holiday in which to teach the youth of the land by precept and example the duty of appreciation for the splendid valor of the loyal dead and the equally loyal survivors of that bloody war and to foster in their minds a more intense desire to be worthy of their rich patrimony.

PLAYING UPON OUR BETTER NATURE.

The promptings of the individual human mind in matters affecting its fellows, are in the main most kindly in their nature. The large majority of human beings would rather do a kindness toward one another than work an injury, as long as the doing of it requires no considerable personal sacrifice. This is proved many times in daily experience by the readiness with which the crowd goes to the assistance of the unfortunate victim of circumstance or fate. The people who gather about the victim of a street accident are usually actuated by a holier motive than mere curiosity, being inspired by a desire to be of service. We never could quite agree with the very high authority that describes the Devil as going "about as a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour." As far as we have observed, that personage does not hunt with a brass band accompaniment, but pursues methods much more subtle and effective. The open, boisterous and undisguised sin repulses, while the lurking devils that speak softly and pounce upon the unwary in unsuspected places, make the saddest inroads upon the ranks of the unwicked.

Out of the very depths of our sympathetic unwisdom, there uprises into being many an evil action to perplex the world and make more difficult the upward movement of humanity. Within the covers of the Book of Books, there is no more inspired injunction than the one which bids the disciples "Be wise as serpents, and harmless as doves."

Is not its meaning expressed more clearly when we say "Be ye wise as serpents (in order that ye be) harmless as doves?" These reflections are the result of pondering over the problem, why do so many people in the world whose motives are really philanthropic, persist in following the lead of men who are palpably selfish and even vicious in their nature? The other day, in New York City, a noted and notorious labor leader with a well known criminal record was caught in the act of attempting to commit a fiendish murder, his victim, who was badly wounded, being a woman. And yet this man had a large following; indeed, if his fellow laborites should constitute a jury today to pass upon his guilt or innocence, the probability is that they would acquit him. In Chicago, only a short time ago, a Union laborite declared upon examination as to his qualifications to serve on a jury, that he would vote to acquit the prisoner even if he should be proved guilty—the charge being that of assault. It is such leadership and such single minded mistaken devotion to a false ideal that brings a worthy cause into disrepute. The large majority of members of labor unions must be credited with a sincere desire to promote the well being of their fellows and certainly many of their leaders are worthy men and women. But no cause deserved success which supports crime and criminals, and the organization or society that sets itself up as superior to the laws of the land and the ordinary instincts of justice can not triumph in a free country. That the devil plays with the better instincts of our nature and by divorcing them from our sense of justice bends them too often to his purpose, is not often more clearly demonstrated than in the time of serious labor troubles, when the sympathetic assistance of large number of well intentioned people go out without question to the "under dog," regardless of the merits of the case. This weak point in the armor of good citizenship is well known to the self-seeking reprobates of society, who for their own purpose do not hesitate to take every advantage of it, by professing devotion to a cause which has a popular following, but to which they are attracted solely by self interest.

THE LIGHTING PROBLEM

Trustee Watson Objects to Certain Statements and Draws a Parallel "Taxpayer" Defends Himself Digest of Statement upon which Trustees Base Estimates

(Communicated)

"A Few Plain Facts."

"Ed. Plaindealer:

"What's the matter with Anaheim? Surely none need ask. For the trouble is so plainly written that those who run may read . . . Property is decreasing in value. Scarcely any inside sales are being made. Is there any wonder that many are leaving and others are afraid to come in? . . . Not long since there was a hue and cry raised by those who had very big and dull axes to grind that we enlarge our city limits. Why, they already include territory enough for a city ten times the size of Anaheim. If it had carried of what use would our water and light power have been? It is not nearly adequate now to our present needs; in fact, it is not much more than a dribble and a glimmer. And what have we in our water and light plant but a fancy tank, that leaks, and a lot of inferior machinery, and an outrageous bill of expense? Yes, we have our $75,000 bondage.

"INVESTOR."

"The recent bankrupting of the city of Gilroy, Anaheim's fast approach to the same condition, and Pasadena's fast increasing bonded indebtedness, tax rate and useless and wasteful expenditure of property owners' money on account of municipal ownership, may not be known to Glendale's city trustees and our taxpayers, and it seems that if the trustees are aware of these facts, they do not intend to apprise the general public of them." (Written by the editor of the Burbank Review.)

"A PROSPEROUS CITY.

The editor of the Review visited Anaheim Tuesday. This was our first visit to the prosperous Orange county city since seventeen years ago. And what a change! From a little, straggling country hamlet in 1892-3 Anaheim has grown to a city of more than 4000 population, with fine wide graded and oiled streets, with five or six solid blocks of brick business houses, many churches, a fine public library, city hall, city water works, electric light and gas plants, several good hotels and restaurants, two excellent newspapers and many other large businesses and public institutions. It is said that Anaheim is one of the best business points in Southern California, and it is easy to believe this statement when we consider it an incorporated city and all business interests stand solidly together for progress and public improvement."

Glendale, May 21, 1909.

Editor NEWS:

Dear Sir: I desire to make the following statement in reply to the "Taxpayer" who wrote an article for the NEWS of the 15th and did not sign his name.

His name is E. M. McClure.

There is nothing "strange" connected with the passage of the ordinance in question and there is no "lack of details," "the board has an estimate of the cost of the plant in the city hall open for inspection by property owners. Mr. McClure has examined these plans and this is a plain attempt to mislead the public and discredit the board of trustees.

Mr. McClure was present at the meeting when the ordinance was read and knew the board was in favor of changing the rate of interest from 6 per cent. to 5 per cent., which will be done before the ordinance is passed. His remarks in regard to the interest are entirely unnecessary and out of place. It seems to me it would be better to wait until an ordinance is passed before attempting to criticise it.

It is an easy matter to present an exaggerated bill of operating expenses but when we know that the writer has misrepresented every other point mentioned in the article, that argument loses its force. The fact is that the present company is operating its distributing plant with two men and a bookeeper, who also manages the water company. While we are asking for enough money for a distributing plant and a generating plant as well, we expect to buy our power. The G. S. & P. C. buys electricity at 4c a killowat and Mr. Goode buys it at 2c a killowat.

In reply to the "Few Plain Facts" written by an "Investor" who also did not sign his name, I herewith submit an editorial written by Mr. McClure and published by him in the Burbank Review. How can Mr. McClure harmonize the two statements? How can he account for the fact that the people of Pasadena voted nearly 7 to 1 in favor of $150,000 additional bonds for their city lighting plant if there has been a "useless and wasteful expenditure of property owners' money on account of municipal ownership." The fake argument that they were in the hole and had to go into it a hundred and fifty thousand dollars deeper in order to get out, won't go, when the Edison company would have given them more for their plant than it had cost up to that time, just to get them out of the way.

The statement that "the Anaheim proposition, like all other municipal lighting systems in California is a failure" is not true. For particularly in regard to the Anaheim proposition I will refer you to the committee who investigated it for the citizens committee, Edgar Pack, Dr. R. E. Chase and Henry Johnston.

I have in my possession reports from seventeen California municipalities, and about the only cities that are satisfied with their lighting systems are those that own their own plants. I will gladly let any citizen read the reports who cares to.

Let us have a free discussion of this proposition, but let us be honest and truthful in the matter.

The committee who interviewed the president of the G. S. & P. Co. were informed by him that he did not propose to put one more dollar into the company for extensions. We should not find fault with the G. S. & P. Co. for not doing for us that which we are not willing to do for ourselves.

To the citizens of Glendale I say: The situation demands action and if you do your part the board of trustees will do theirs with absolute impartiality to all parts of our city. Let us all work together for an up-to-date lighting system.

T. W. WATSON.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

Dear Sir: As you saw fit in the last issue of the NEWS to question the veracity (in fact you made the flat statement that there is no truth whatever in my statement) set forth in an article, which appeared in the NEWS of Saturday, May 15, 1909, relating to the question of voting bonds for municipal lighting, and of certain actions of the Glendale city board of trustees in relation thereto, I wish to be put right before my friends and the public.

To quote the items which you say "lack the merit of truth:"

"This is the first: 'There seems to be many strange features connected with the passage of this ordinance, chief among which are lack of details, etc.' As a fact the matter has not a solitary strange or mysterious feature; details of all sorts have been obtained and are at the service of any taxpayer who cares to inquire for them; a complete outline of work proposed to be done has been prepared by the city engineer, showing where proposed pole and wire lines shall run, etc."

"Here is the second: 'The ordinance sets the rate of interest at six per cent, when any bond syndicate would purchase the bonds at five per cent, etc.' The writer of the quoted communication, this same 'Taxpayer,' was present at the meeting of the city trustees when the city attorney presented the ordinance as drafted by him for adoption—he heard the trustees object to the rate of interest named, heard them voice their objections unanimously, and heard them instruct him to change it to five per cent before their next meeting, when they would amend it to that effect. And the last: 'The Anaheim proposition, like all other municipal lighting systems in California, is a failure, and this fact is apparent and easily proven.' The trustees appointed a committee of three citizens some weeks ago to go to Anaheim to investigate the lighting system of that city, two of them, Messrs. Johnston and Pack, went there, investigated and made a written report, which will be published in our next issue if not in this, showing that the Anaheim system is a success and generally satisfactory to the people of that city. As to the latter part of the proposition a statement that 'all municipal lighting systems in California are failures' is so sweeping as to contradict itself."

The writer of the "Taxpayer" article called at the Glendale City Hall, Wednesday morning, May 26th, and asked the city engineer if he had any information on file in relation to the estimate and plans of the board of city trustees regarding the proposed municipal lighting plant. The engineer, Mr. Lynch, informed him that there was nothing of the kind on file and that he could not give out any information until instructed to do so by the board of trustees after its meeting Wednesday evening, May 26th, 1909. So you will see that you are wrong regarding the first item. (Synopsis of estimate referred to appears in this issue.—Ed.)

Regarding the second item, where you say "I was present and heard the members of the board express unanimous objection" to a 6 per cent rate of interest for the proposed municipal lighting bonds, will say that Mr. Blackburn was the only member who seemed to be outspoken in opposition to the rate of interest, and if the members of the board, as you say "instructed him (the city attorney) to change it to 5 per cent before their next meeting, when they would amend it to that effect," why did they not "change it to 5 per cent" then and there, if they intended to change the rate of interest at all.

The third item, the Anaheim proposition: I have no doubt that the committee which you refer to did go to Anaheim and secure the report which you published in your last issue, and there is no question in my mind but they are absolutely honest in their report, but even honest men are liable to mistakes. I also examined the books of the Anaheim lighting system and talked with citizens as to whether or not the system was satisfactory. I do not know upon what fact the committee's report is based, but I do know that I can make good every assertion which I made relating to the Anaheim lighting plant.

Will say that I favor a better lighting arrangement for Glendale, but am unalterably opposed to voting bonds for a local generating plant for the reason that it would result in a waste of the money expended for same, and any one who will take the trouble to investigate will be convinced of the truth of this statement.

Your statement that my claims, as published, are untrue, I am willing to leave to the public for decision. I am dealing in facts, not misrepresentations, no matter what may be the opinions of a very few people.

LIGHTING COMMITTEE'S REPORT IN WHICH ARE EMBODIED ESTIMATES BY ENGINEER LYNCH.

The following is a condensation of the report to the lighting committee on the cost of building and operating the proposed lighting plant. The detailed report, with map showing approximate location of lines is on file in the office of the city engineer, where it may be seen by any one whom it will interest.

There are approximately 700 houses in the corporate limits, and to reach all of these will require seventeen miles of pole line. A distributing system to cover the whole town, and to reach every house, including 150 incandescent street lamps and 18 street arc lights, and all wiring to houses, and meters, will cost $31,000.

To build a power station, including land and building for it, will cost $20,000; or, if power can be advantageously purchased, the transformer station and lines to connect the source of power can be built for $9,000.

If it is necessary to build a generating station the total cost of the plant will not exceed $51,000, even though connections were made to every house within the limits, while if power is purchased the total cost will not exceed $40,000 for the same number of connections.

If power is generated, a minimum income of $1280 per month will provide for operation, maintenance, interest and redemption, and $250 per month will provide for depreciation, while if power is purchased a minimum income of $1090 per month will take care of operation, maintenance, interest and redemption, and $200 per month for depreciation.

J. J. BURKE MOVES IN.

J. J. Burke took possession of his new home on Blanche avenue, Wednesday of this week. The home is one of the prettiest and most modern in this community and is a credit to Tropico, although not of great size.

Throughout the house is finished in weathered oak. It is a two-story structure and contains five rooms. There are two bed rooms upstairs and one on the second floor; on the east side is a pretty canopy porch. Downstairs the living and dining rooms are large. In the living room is a five-foot wainscoting and a large brick mantel. The dining room is fitted with a built-in window seat and a large china closet.

In the kitchen is a built-in closet and a long sink. Behind the kitchen is a small screen porch. At the front facing on Blenche avenue is a large porch the entire width of the house. The house is fitted with a porcelain bath and lavatories.

The grounds surrounding the house will be improved and beautified. The cost of the residence is about $2000.

ORDINANCE NO. 98.

AN ORDINANCE CALLING A SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE CITY OF GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, ON THE 22ND DAY OF JUNE, 1909, AND SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF SAID CITY THE PROPOSITION OF INCURRING AN INDEBTEDNESS IN THE SUM OF SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS, FOR THE PURPOSE OF ACQUIRING, CONSTRUCTING AND COMPLETING BY SAID CITY OF GLENDALE OF THE FOLLOWING MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT, TO-WIT, ELECTRIC LIGHT WORKS; PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUE OF BONDS THEREFOR, AND FOR THE LEVY OF A TAX FOR THE PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS; DESIGNATING THE ELECTION PRECINCT AND POLLING PLACE; AND APPOINTING THE ELECTION OFFICERS FOR SAID ELECTION.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do ordain as follows:

Section 1. Whereas the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California, at a regular meeting thereof held May 5th, 1909, by a vote of two-thirds of all its members duly passed and adopted a Resolution determining that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said City of Glendale of a certain municipal improvement, to-wit, Electric Light Works, and

A PUBLIC PARK.

Public Spirited Citizen Suggests a Subscription and Heads the List. Next!

Editor Glendale News:

Dear Sir: Your repeated calls to action in the matter of a public park for Glendale does not meet with the response its importance demands. It is conceded by all that a park is needed but probably few realize how much greater the need will be in the future. A quarter or half a century is but a short time, yet in that time this valley and all Southern California will be densely populated. To judge of the future we have but to look at the history of the Atlantic coast and the golden shores of the Pacific are going to be populated even faster than was the bleak New England shore. How do we wish to hand down to posterity the conditions that prevail in the large centers of population in the East, where tens of thousands of little children are crowded into filthy tenements with not even a breathing place where they can enjoy the songs of birds, the green grass, flowers and God's free air and sunshine.

We can deny,—we can withhold this boon to future generations, but in the largest sense we cannot give them a heritage which is already theirs by every principle of right and justice. God made all nature free, but man monopolizes God's free gifts to all, even to the air and sunshine through the private ownership of the earth, but what we say here is of little note and will not be long remembered; it is what we do here that will live after us.

There are beautiful situations that are still within reach for park purposes, but it takes money and labor to accomplish results. There should be at least five hundred men who would give from five dollars up, some could give five hundred dollars as easy as others could give five. This would be at least a good beginning.

So, Mr. Editor, start a subscription paper and give the people a chance to show how much interest they have in the future of this beautiful young city. Put me down for ten dollars in work and ten dollars in money.

R. GILHOUSEN.

SOME HOLLYHOCK.

As an example of what the climate and soil of California is capable of, a hollyhock stock growing upon the grounds of Mr. James Hoffman, at 124 East Second street, is worthy of note. Up to the present it has attained to a heighth of fourteen feet and it still aspires upward. The plant has had no special care and Mr. Hoffman regrets that he has really done nothing in particular to help nature along, not having even cut off the other stocks which sprout from the same root, all of which are radiant with bloom.

SUDDEN DEATH OF JAPANESE.

A Japanese, named Yosu Kichi Kovema, aged 50 years, while working on the ranch of Mr. John Todd in West Glendale, last Tuesday, began to complain in the early morning of a pain in his eye and retired to his cabin, where his comrades found him at noon, dead. The coroner held an inquest and rendered a verdict of death from heart trouble and pneumonia complicated by inflamation of the stomach caused by overeating.

TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN ITEMS.

By Rev. Henderson C. Shoemaker.

Little Anna Poltera, who was so brutally murdered in Griffith Park a week last Monday afternoon, was a member of the Tropico Presbyterian Sunday School. She had been a regular attendant at the school and was very much liked among the children. When seen Wednesday morning the brother of little Anna stated that the girl attended the school at Tropico as often as she possibly could and when she did miss it was because she was unable to make the journey. Her brother said that she was a good girl and was as innocent as a child could be. The pastor of this church assisted in the funeral service which was held from undertaking parlors in Los Angeles last Saturday afternoon. The remains of the child were taken to the Rosedale cemetery.

The service at this church next Sunday morning will be especially for the mothers of the community. The sermon will be for the mothers, and the fathers of the community are requested to come and bring their mothers just as they used to do. The subject for next Sunday evening will be "Wedding Invitations." There will be special music at both services next Sunday morning.

There were a few empty seats last Sunday evening at the church service that we should like very much to see filled this coming Sunday. Can't you fill one of them.

Our Sunday school is very proud of the two silk flags which it won at the Sunday School convention held at Glendale last Saturday.

A men's Bible class will be organized in the Sunday School room. If you are a young man we need you for this class. You are welcome.

WELCOME NEWS OF ELLIOTT'S CAPTURE.

A feeling of relief is now being felt by the people of this place now that Ben Elliott, who has been committing so many robberies in this vicinity during the past few weeks, has been captured, and is now being held safely under lock and key. The many robberies, repeated one after the other, had the effect of making the residents here timid about leaving their homes, even to go out to little social affairs or anything of the kind. A feeling of nervousness prevailed.

Although the boy has confessed to committing some of the robberies it is very evident that all of the thefts were not done by him. On one occasion when the Tropico Mercantile company's store was entered—the night of the shooting affray—Mrs. Gallup, who was in the store at the time claims that the man who made the attempt at robbery that night was not Elliott. She says that she was in hiding near the front part of the store when a man—doubtless the man who attempted to enter the store that night—stood on the sidewalk in front of the store and while looking into the store window, lit a match and held it, burning before him for several seconds. Then he walked across to the other window and did the same thing. Mrs. Gallup says that she saw the man's face very distinctly and that it was not the face of Elliott.

Elliott states that he left this place and started for the beach town last Tuesday week. If this be true it can be readily seen that it was not this boy who entered the home of J. W. Dutton on Brand boulevard last Saturday evening. A shooting affair at the home of F. C. Richardson on Cypress avenue was also blamed on this boy, and it is evident that the accusation is erronious. So it may have been with a number of the other robberies done here and at Glendale. Without doubt the boy is responsible for some of the crimes, but it is almost an assured fact that he was not implicated in them all. A theory is that tramps going through the place heard of the suspicion placed on this young fellow and under cover of this suspicion, committed some of the robberies, knowing at the time that the blame would be laid upon young Elliott.

The boy claims that he stole only when he was in need of something to eat. This is doubtless a falsehood, for at the time that several of the robberies were committed he had in his possession a meal ticket on one of the Los Angeles restaurants and also a book of car tickets over the electric road—both of these being purchased for him by Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, with whom he had been staying.

It seems the boy had a mania for stealing things, and several articles he disposed of at a ridiculously low price. For instance, a suit case, a suit of clothes and a gold ring, all of which were of good quality and in fine condition, he disposed of for one dollar and fifty cents—or rather a companion disposed of them for him. Everything he could get his hands on he sold.

As Mr. Elliott, father of the boy, expressed it, "He is nothing but a young school boy and the things that he has done were undoubtedly taught to him by evil associates."

The father continued: "You see what evil associates will do for a boy! Why, when he was in his home town in the East he was considered one of the best boys in the place. When I saw that the boy's health was failing I wrote to Mr. Bennett of Tropico and he said that he thought that California climate would be beneficial to him, and I sent him out. When he got out here he became acquainted with boys that were not what they ought to be and he, being innocent and inexperienced, took up with their ways. From then the matter drifted from bad to worse until it ended in robbery, and his capture.

"When I started him West I pleaded with him to be good and to keep out of bad company and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, with whom he stayed, did everything they could to keep him on the right path, but these evil associates got hold of him and he seemed to lack the will power to throw them off."

Just as soon as the matter has been settled Mr. Elliott will start for his Eastern home, and take up his business interests.
